Royal Hua Hin Golf Club

Royal Hua Hin is unmistakably the oldest 18-hole international standard golf course in Thailand and is only 5 minutes from downtown Hua Hin. The course was commissioned in 1924 to accommodate the interests of the British railway workers and Thai aristocracy living in the area.

The course is built on natural terrain and set between some breathtaking rocky hills. Spectacular views of the Gulf of Thailand and the city center are possible from several holes. A major renovation in the 1980's brought this course up to international standards, despite its age. Mature tree lined fairways are now abundant.

Your skills will definitely be tested here, with many tight tree-lined fairways, many nicely doglegging holes and relatively small circular greens to hit, greens are mostly elevated. The bunkering is quite modest and the course condition might not be as manicured as some in the Hua Hin Region, but Royal Hua Hin has some very pleasing features in its treasure chest.

At par-3 14th, the signature hole, and the par-5 3rd, you have the opportunity to see temples clinging to the sides of tree-clad hills. While one side of the course is played under a scenic tree-clad rocky hill, the other side will provide occasional glimpses of the ocean from the two elevated sections of the course.

A remodeled club house creates a nice 19th hole to reflect on the golfers who have passed through the doors during the past century that Royal Hua Hin has been around. Royal Hua Hin is a course that should be played at least once by every golf traveler to Hua Hin.
