Miramar Golf Country Club 美麗華高爾夫球場

Widely regarded as amongst the top five courses in Taipei, Miramar Golf Country Club is a 36-hole luxury golf resort with two Jack Nicklaus Signature courses comprised of four nine hole loops; the North, South, East and West. Championships are contested over the North and West nines, and feature twelve water hazards varying in size, accompanied by 110 American-styled bunkers and mature trees lining either side of the generous fairways. Anything other than the somewhat easy-to-find shorter grass more than likely calls for the golfer to take his medicine. The fast greens of various contours are enhanced by multi-tiers and canted to challenge the golfer. Only of modest length, the 410 yard, 9th on the North course plays as the second toughest hole; the usual Nicklaus feature of water runs down the entire right side from tee to green, putting pressure on the drive as well as the approach into the green. The last hole in is the 500 yard 9th on the West nine that has a bunker splitting the middle of the fairway at the 270 yard mark forcing the golfer to make a choice, with the right side being the better for a more open approach to the green. Playing uphill, most will lay up short of the greenside bunker for a short pitch in. Miramar was the venue for the Fubon Senior Open in 2011, the first time that a European Senior Tour Event had ever been held in Taiwan, and spectators were thrilled to see local pro Chien Soon Lu coast to a five stroke victory.
